KNIFE IS THROWN AT STATE AFFAIR

Weapon Strikes Son of British Ambassador Over Heart But Is Deflected by Cigarette Case

GUESTS OF MINISTER WERE SEATED AT TABLE

Weapon Was Hurling Toward Group Consisting of Princess Louise of Sweden and Two Ambassadors

TOKIO, Sept. 17.—A knife was hurled toward Princess Louise of Sweden, Sir John Tilley, British ambassador, and M. Albert de Bismarck, Belgian ambassador, yesterday, while a luncheon was in progress at the British embassy. The weapon struck Roger Tilley, son of the ambassador, near the heart, but was deflected by a gold cigarette case. Young Tilley was uninjured.

Government officials are giving out various censored versions, but it is learned that the following is authentic:

Seated at Luncheon

The Brazilian knife of Sir John Tilley disappeared Wednesday from the drawing-room of the British embassy. Yesterday Sir John and the Belgian ambassador were seated on either side of the Princess Louise at a luncheon at the British embassy in honor of the Princess and Crown Prince Gustave Adolph. Their backs were toward a window. Mr. Roger Tilley, seated near the end of the table, suddenly saw an intruder's face cautiously peering in. The intruder then drew a knife, whereupon young Tilley sprang toward the window. The knife, hurled toward the Princess and the ambassador, struck young Tilley directly over the heart, but a gold cigarette case saved his life.

The luncheon was immediately in confusion, men hurrying out after the would-be assassin. The man escaped.

Police are inclined to believe the man who did the knife throwing is Chinese.

FATE OF CREW ONLY GUESSED AT

MEN FROM SUNKEN ELLANIA BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN PICKED UP

Steamer Olympic Offered to Take Help, But Skippers Refused—Had Lifeboats

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The fate of the crew of the Italian steamer Ellania, which was sunk on Thursday off the Scilly Islands, is still unknown, although it is believed in shipping circles they have probably been picked up by fishing craft that were in the vicinity. The disaster was due to a collision between the Ellania and the British steamer Indra, which, though damaged, was able to continue on her journey. The steamer Olympic, which was at the scene ready to assist the sinking vessel, arrived at Southampton today and Commander Marshall said the Italian ship refused help.

"At that time," said Commander Marshall, "she was well down at the bow and it was obvious that her forward hold was flooded. In reply to our signal the Italian skipper signalled, 'We wish to abandon the ship.' Five minutes later he signalled, 'We do not wish to abandon the ship now.'"

Lifeboats Swung Out

Captain Marshall saw that all the Italian steamer's lifeboats were swung out and that men were bustling about sticking them with water and provisions.

In view of the uncertainty displayed by the Italian commander, said Commander Marshall today, "I sent off a lifeboat in charge of my fourth officer, who definitely learned that the Italians would not abandon the ship."

"The weather being fine and the sea heavy, the Olympic then steamed away after observing several fishing craft and a steam trawler nearby."

The Belgian steamer Indra, reported finding an empty lifeboat of the Ellania near the scene of the disaster.

Unconfirmed Word

CHERBOURG, France, Sept. 17.—Statements by officers of the steamer Leviathan, which arrived from New York at noon today, indicated no lives were lost in the sinking of the Italian steamer Ellania, off the British coast, Thursday morning. The captain said the Leviathan had started for the scene of the disaster when word was received that the crew had been rescued by fishing boats and that the steamer Homer was standing by.

INTERESTING LETTER COMES FROM ARCTIC

Commander of Mounted Police Post on Baffin Land Sends Acknowledgment to Radio Station

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17.—In the mail bag which is brought only once a year out of far away Baffin land, there was a letter addressed to the broadcaster of Station C.N.R. 1, the radio plant of the Canadian National Railways at Vancouver, from Inspector C. E. Wilcox, R.C.M.P. commander of the Ellsmere sub district. It reads as follows:

"On behalf of myself and members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, stationed at Ellsmere Island, North Devon Island and Baffin land, it is indeed a pleasure to write and thank you and your broadcasting staff and artists who have taken part in giving such excellent concert, lecture and news items during the past winter months. You may be pleased to know that the programmes broadcast from your station C.N.R. were received here at North Baffin land, Baffinland, N.W.T., Canada, during the dark and lonely months when the sun disappeared from November until February. It is then we fully appreciated them, but I have only this opportunity of sending you this letter of appreciation as the ship on which the mail is taken out arrives but once a year."

OFFER TO MINERS MADE BY PREMIER

Mr. Baldwin Writes to Mr. Cook Urging That Miners Return to Work Under Provisional District Agreements

NATIONAL TRIBUNAL OF APPEAL IS PROMISED

Necessary Legislation Will Be Pushed Through Parliament as Soon as It Reassembles, He Says

LONDON, Sept. 17.—If the British coal miners go back to the mines they may have what they demand—a nation-wide agreement in effect, if not in word.

Premier Baldwin tonight assured the miners of Government assistance in obtaining the principle of settlement for which they are struggling and go back to work. The Premier's offer, which is contained in a letter to Mr. A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, was drafted at the close of an all-day conference in Downing Street between the Premier and representatives of the owners and of the workers. The offer is regarded in some quarters as a peace formula likely to end the prolonged coal strike.

Legislation Proposed

Premier Baldwin informed the miners through Mr. Cook that he had failed in his efforts to bring the owners into a conference on a national agreement covering hours and wages, but that the mine owners throughout the country were generally willing to admit the principle that such an agreement should be secured. The Premier, therefore, appealed to the miners to return to work under provisional district agreements while the Government prepares legislation to establish a national tribunal of appeal which will be pushed through Parliament as soon as it reassembles.

Miners' Executive

The acceptance by the miners of Mr. Baldwin's proposal depends upon a vote of their executive committee, which is to meet on Monday. In any case, it is expected another conference with the Premier will be held to clear up all points in the dispute. The Premier's offer is regarded in some quarters as a peace formula likely to end the prolonged coal strike.

Not Encouraging

Speaking at Greenwich today Mr. A. J. Cook was not encouraging about prospects of a strike settlement. He said: "Unless the terms put forward by the coal owners are changed very much, and unless a national agreement for negotiations and settlement is allowed, we are a long way from a settlement of this dispute."

The Westminster

The Westminster suggests that the coal strike is considerably heightened by Premier Baldwin's proposals.

LEADING PUBLICIST VISITING VICTORIA

Mr. St. Nihal Singh Renewes Acquaintance After Nineteen Years' Interval

Conducting an investigation into colonization, migration and financial development, Mr. St. Nihal Singh, who for the past fifteen years has made his headquarters in London, England, is registered at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Singh, who is a native of the Punjab, has been a contributor to leading British newspapers and the principal magazine for many years. It is nineteen years since he was last on this coast, and he intends to contribute articles on the changes which have taken place in the intervening years. He is particularly interested in the extending influence of American capital on Canadian enterprise, and from what he said to The Colonist representative yesterday, it is likely that his publications will be of considerable interest.

He has been traveling frequently since his last visit, and has lectured and written upon all kinds of subjects for the past twenty years. He represented some British papers in the Prince of Wales' Indian tour, and was among the officials in which the Prince maintained strenuous sports as well as the official programme in the fierce heat of India. Mr. Singh is especially interested in movements of an international character and for promoting peace. For the twenty years books from his pen have described his conclusions, with particular reference to the Indian Empire's place in the imperial scheme, and as an East Indian with thorough knowledge of Occidental conditions from having met the leaders of thought everywhere for many years, taking the opportunity to interpret the West to the East, and the East to Western peoples. He is correspondent of an extensive chain of papers, both in the Old Country and the United States.

MR. ROGER PINO MAY MAKE SURVEY

C.N.R. OFFICIAL TOLD OF OPPORTUNITY OF DEVELOPING OCEAN PIERS

Expert on Port Development May Be Secured to Make Survey of Grain and Cold Storage Plant

The Chamber of Commerce was informed at the meeting of directors yesterday afternoon by President C. P. W. Schwenger that he had been informed by Mr. H. F. Alexander, president of the Admiral Line, that the latter would do everything within his power to help develop the port of Victoria, and would be quite willing to lend the services of Mr. Roger Pines, who is an expert in port development matters, particularly in connection with the operation of grain elevators.

An effort will be made to secure the services of Mr. Pines to survey the ocean piers with a view to making recommendations as to the best site for a grain elevator and cold storage plant.

Mr. William Phillips, manager of the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways, who was an invited guest at the directors' meeting, said that he would certainly do all in his power to influence the Canadian National Railways in the improvement of its terminal here.

He was informed by directors of the Chamber of Commerce that business right by Victoria's door. Particularly was this the case in connection with the West Coast fishing industry, which is a long-standing dispute as to the share Saanich should pay for the cost of construction and use of the outfall at Hold Point.

Pursuant to the negotiations which have been in progress between the city and Saanich, under which residents of Saanich will be permitted to connect with the sewer, under a sliding scale agreement of charges, the Saanich Council was told at its meeting last night that Oak Bay must have the assurance of having its liability liquidated.

The committee appointed to deal with the question submitted an agreement which formed the basis of discussion. This agreement provides for connection only after the approval of the city engineer, and fixes a schedule of charges both for installation and maintenance.

Reeve Macdonald suggested that the council should act carefully to avoid a binding obligation to pay the money, advocating rather an understanding through which the municipality would liquidate its debt by means of a series of rentals and installation charges. The council decided to table the matter until the committee until it had been ascertained how payment for service could be given without prejudice to the city's financial position.

GENERAL SMUTS WILL FIGHT FLAG PROPOSAL

South African Party, He Says, Will Contest It Tooth and Nail—Dixie Said to Be Loaded

KIMBERLEY, South Africa, Sept. 17.—In a speech here tonight, General Jan Christiaan Smuts, leader of the South African Party in the House of Assembly, strenuously objected to Premier Hertzog's proposal, announced today, to pass the flag bill through Parliament and then hold a referendum on the question as to whether it should operate.

Smuts declared that the bill was "a dishonest attempt to wiggle out of the difficulties into which the flag bill has landed."

He emphasized that the proposed procedure would keep the country in turmoil for the next two years, and promised that if the Government proceeded with the bill at the next session of Parliament, the South African party would fight it tooth and nail.

Twenty-Foot Stream of Lightning Is Formed

More Than Two Million Volts of Electricity Produced at Stanford University Form Long Arc of Living Flame Between Two Poles

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CALIF., Sept. 17.—The highest voltage ever produced by electrical science was attained in a demonstration here today, when more than 2,000,000 volts of electricity formed an arc of living flame between two poles twenty feet apart.

The test marked the opening of the Professor Harris J. Ryan high-voltage laboratory, and was a demonstration of the imposing and complicated equipment which will be used in a series of investigations to determine how to improve long-distance power transmission conditions. It was witnessed by a notable gathering of electrical experts, power company representatives and educators from all sections of the United States. Scientists said they expect that the tests will be made by the six huge transformers which created the imposing total of 2,000,000 volts, not only will it make possible the solution of many problems now known to science as "electrical phenomena."

SNAG STRUCK IN SEWER AGREEMENT

SAANICH SEEKS SETTLEMENT WITHOUT PREJUDICE TO FUTURE

Clause Referring to Amounts Claimed as Due to City and Oak Bay Is Stumbling Block

*Adjustment of the differences between Victoria and Saanich in connection with the northeast sewer is still threatened by a long-standing dispute as to the share Saanich should pay for the cost of construction and use of the outfall at Hold Point.

Pursuant to the negotiations which have been in progress between the city and Saanich, under which residents of Saanich will be permitted to connect with the sewer, under a sliding scale agreement of charges, the Saanich Council was told at its meeting last night that Oak Bay must have the assurance of having its liability liquidated.

LORD DARLING SPEAKS OF THINGS IN CANADA

Famous English Judge Addresses Canadian Club in Vancouver—Differences Are Desirable

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 17.—The Hotel Vancouver, scene in the past of many notable meetings, held this afternoon a memorable gathering when Lord Darling, world-renowned jurist, addressed the members of the Canadian Club, who thronged the banquet room from door to door.

Lord Darling fully sustained his reputation as one of the most humorous jesters who ever sat on the King's Bench, and started off by saying that he was going to talk about nothing in particular, so that he might not get into trouble.

Referring to complaints by some people as to how things were done in Canada, his lordship struck a serious note. "How tireless it would be," he said, "if we all looked alike, read the same books, listened to the same music, sang the same songs. I say would be the use of meeting together if we held the same opinions and tried to resemble one another exactly. Never forget that St. Paul advised us, when in Rome to do as the Romans do."

"When I look out of these windows," he continued, "and see the Union Jack flying over your court house, and also the coat of arms displayed on the building, I realize that your justice is the same justice that is enjoyed in England. I say, therefore, 'We at home shall never forget that it was the Canadians who first came to our aid when we had to go to war through no choice of our own.'"

"We shall never forget that, I say, and you know perfectly well that if it was necessary for you to call for the same help it would be forthcoming."

Lord Darling, who leaves this evening for Victoria, will leave for Toronto on Sunday evening over the Canadian Pacific Railway, stopping off at Banff en route.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17.—The clouds are clearing in western skies and clear, calm days are expected, reports the C.P.R. weather man. Light snow is expected this morning. Rain was general over the greater part of Manitoba yesterday, but this morning is clear and bright. It is expected that the weather will be generally clear over the province by Monday.

CREW AND CARGO ARE LOST UNACCOUNTABLY

"Flying Dutchman" of California Rum Row Turns Up With One Man—He Says He Was Stranded

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 17.—Bringing a weird story and with a sole survivor aboard, the Canadian liquor schooner Marion G. Douglas, "Flying Dutchman" of Southern California's rum row, came into port today in law of the motorship Bergen, which had salvaged the Douglas.

Al Jewel, survivor, declared that he was stranded from San Pedro and placed aboard the rum schooner as a caretaker off San Martin's Island, on the Lower California coast. He found the schooner empty, and declared he could shed no light on the fate of the rum runner's original crew or what became of the vessel and its cargo.

His story was only added to the mystery surrounding the "ghost" ship. Jewel was arrested by officers of the United States coastguard cutter No. 253 when the Douglas reached quarantine, but was released later.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—At a meeting of the executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society held today it was decided that Dr. James Robertson, chairman of the council of the Canadian Red Cross, and Dr. James L. Higgan, chief commissioner, will immediately commence a tour of the Western provinces, taking in the territory served by the Red Cross in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

The journey will be for the purpose of conferring with divisional executives with the view to perfecting the organization of the society and reaching a preliminary understanding regarding co-ordination of effort in the forthcoming financial campaign next May and June. Meetings will be held and the Red Cross cause presented to interested people in as many localities as possible.

The first meeting will be held in Regina on Friday, September 24.

PARTY CHIEFS WILL ASSEMBLE ON MONDAY

Ministers and Ex-Ministers Arriving in Ottawa—Formal Meeting of Cabinet Will Be Held

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—Monday next promises to be a notable day in Canadian politics. The Conservative cabinet will hold a formal meeting on that day preparatory to tendering the Government's resignation, while, at the same time, former Liberal ministers are expected to confer with their leader, Mr. Mackenzie King, who probably will be called upon to form a new government next week.

In the seclusion of Laurier House, the official residence of the leader of the Liberal party, former Premier King is devoting himself to the selection of a Liberal cabinet. Mr. King is receiving only a few visitors, the latest of whom to confer with him today being Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, formerly Solicitor-General, and Hon. Vincent Massey.

Other members of the late King Government, including Hon. Charles Dunning, Hon. Charles Stewart, Hon. W. R. Motherwell and Hon. Dr. J. H. King, are expected to reach here over the week-end to confer with Mr. King on Monday.

A number of ministers in the Meighen administration have already reached the capital in response to Premier Meighen's summons, following the Government's defeat. Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Minister without Portfolio, arrived last night, and Hon. R. B. Bennett, Minister of Finance, and Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Customs, are due to arrive from the West on Sunday.

Political observers in the capital continue to express their belief that a Fall session will be held in November, probably about November 17 or 20. The main purpose of an early session would be to give parliamentary authority for expenditure from the Treasury. A long Christmas recess, it is believed, would follow the calling of an early session.

MOUNTED POLICE SEIZE CACHE OF RUM-RUNNERS

Searching for Gang With Whom They Battled, They Make Find—"Wild Archie" Is Held

HALIFAX, Sept. 17.—A cache containing 150 kegs of rum and fifteen cases of whisky and champagne was discovered today by Canadian mounted police officers in the woods near Glen Margaret, a village on St. Margaret's Bay. The liquor, which is valued at $10,000, was found while the officers were searching for a gang of eight rum-runners with whom they battled last night and were successful in recapturing thirteen kegs of rum, which the officers had seized and stored in a barn.

Another development in the affair was the taking into custody here today of "Wild Archie" McLennan, a Glace Bay boxer, who is being held by the police pending further investigations, and who is alleged to be a member of the gang.

HURRICANE CHANGES SEAFRONT OF ISLAND

All Shipping Wharves Are Carried Away and Houses Demolished—Salt Lighters Lost

HALIFAX, Sept. 17.—The hurricane that swept Turks Island, in the West Indies, yesterday, carried away all shipping wharves, completely demolished many houses and "changed" the entire seafront according to a report reaching the Halifax and Bermuda Cable Company this evening. During the afternoon, the wind reached a velocity of 150 miles an hour, leaving ruin and desolation in its wake, particularly along the coast, where all houses were badly damaged. Hardly a house escaped, the report stated, and many salt lighters were lost. At the time the message was sent no loss of life had been reported. The island's supply of foodstuffs was short, and assistance was needed.

This evening's cable read in part as follows: "Hurricane of great intensity passed over Turks island on the 16th instant. Barometer at 8 a.m. was 29.51. It started to fall rapidly, and at 1 p.m. was 29.26, and still falling. The centre of the storm apparently passed over Grand Turk at 4 p.m., carrying everything in its wake. The wind at that hour having gained a velocity of 150 miles an hour, blowing from the northwest. At 6 p.m. the storm showed signs of abatement, and the wind veered around to the southwest."

GRAIN IS NOT MOVING TO PORT OF VANCOUVER

Bad Weather in Alberta Is Cause—Volume From Further East to Port William Increases

WILKINSON, Sept. 17.—A new high level for this season in grain marketing along Canadian Pacific lines was reached Thursday when 2,061,154 bushels of grain were shipped to the elevators. This year's record was also broken in shipments from Port William, cargoes of 1,309,000 bushels of grain being shipped to the port across the lakes.

The bulk of the marketing, 1,444,857 bushels were from Saskatchewan, with Manitoba marketing 410,527 bushels and Alberta 135,776 bushels. Loadings in the three Prairie Provinces totalled 1,174 cars. No more as shipping resumes, which is at present indicated for Monday, there will be a great rush of grain shipments. Owing to the wet weather in Alberta, movement to Vancouver is almost at a standstill.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaels

I know a formal garden where lovely blossoms blow, their ranks arrayed in stately mass or ordered row on row. With smiles they greet the seasons, a wealth of hues displayed, there are no drooping petals there, no buds that bloom to fade.
For they are watched and tended and trained with every care, the rose whose life is ended but makes way for one more fair. Not so within my garden, for there in disarray the larkspur and the violet and yellow daisies stray. Sometimes a fading rose there complains that life is brief, but even with her dying breath the air grows yet more sweet. The springtime comes with snowdrops, in autumn comes glow, and down these green or yellowed ways the year's swift changes show. For so all life is ordered, to bloom and then to fade, and so I watch its passing in my garden's calvarie.

C.N.R. OFFICIAL STUDIES PROBLEMS

MR. WILLIAM PHILLIPS SAYS HE WILL INTEREST COMPANY
IN DEVELOPMENT

Headlines Need of Furthering Industrial Possibilities of Vancouver Island and Victoria

Mr. William Phillips, manager of the industrial department of the Canadian National Railway, addressed the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon. Mr. Phillips said that although he had been more than forty years in the railroad business, this was his first visit to the Pacific coast.

During his short stay here he had come in contact with several of the problems facing ports on this coast, one of them that had attracted his attention more than anything else was through port charges to inland territories.

Another industry whose development was somewhat held back was the mining industry. Mr. Phillips thought, he believed that if a smelter could be established at one of the Coast ports, mine owners would be able to develop their property to a greater extent, and at the same time keep the money within the country, instead of shipping it to Tacoma to be smelted.

Mr. Phillips said that he fully realized the need of developing the Ogden Point docks, and would do his best to interest the company in this development on his return to the East.

"I have accompanied Sir James and Lady Craig to this coast. They have asked me to express their deep appreciation of the entertainment so kindly arranged for them by this organization," Mr. Phillips concluded.

TRADE CONFERENCE MATTERS DISCUSSED

One Thousand Delegates Expected—Chamber of Commerce Desires to Handle Own Arrangements

More than 1,000 business men are expected to attend the Foreign Trade Conference gathering to be held in Victoria on September 15, 16 and 17. President C. P. W. Schwenger, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting held yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Schwenger and Mayor Pendray had interviewed Mr. William Phillips, of Seattle, relative to this conference and had been told that an advance of $2,500 would be required to conduct it, this sum to be returned to its donors after the conference from the attendance fees that would be collected.

A question arose regarding Seattle's desire to handle the finances and arrangements of the conference with the aid of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Directors of the Chamber, however, felt that Mr. George J. Warren was quite competent to handle the arrangements and organization of this conference and would be in a better position to do so, having a thorough knowledge of local conditions and being more able to meet the requirements of British overseas delegates.

Among other matters that arose at the directors' meeting yesterday was that of the formation of a Young Men's Section of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee's report was read, showing the progress that had been made with the Gyro Club and United Commercial Travelers' organization. Plans for such an addition are being prepared.

Mayor Pendray, in commenting on this addition, stated that one of the questions that the Chamber should deal with was a reduction in steamship and railroad rates for commercial travelers. There was no such privilege given the commercial travelers of the West, although the organization in the East were extended this privilege. Mayor Pendray pointed out.

My sister-in-law is taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and cannot praise it too highly and asked me to try it. I have had splendid results and feel fine all the time now. ## Terrible Backache Hamilton, Ont.—"After my baby was born, I had terrible backache and headaches. I could not do my work and felt tired from the first minute I got up. But worst of all were the pains in my sides. I moved about, I had to sit or lie down for a while afterwards. I could keep my house in order, but many things had to go undone at the time, because of my ailment. I was told by a neighbor to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she said it would build me up. I was relieved before I had taken the first we bought and have not had any trouble like it since."—Mrs. T. MARKLE, 115 Ferguson Avenue South, Hamilton, Ontario.

TEN-YEAR LEASE ON PARK SOUGHT

B.C. Agricultural Association Presents
Proposals to City—Wants Grant
for Providing Facilities

Meeting the City Fathers at the public works committee session yesterday afternoon, members of the executive committee of the British Columbia Agricultural Association presented their proposals for the future of the Willows grounds as the site of the Provincial Exhibition at Victoria. The requests of the B.C. Agricultural Association to the City Council were briefly as follows:

(1) That the city give the association a free lease of the Willows Park for a period of ten years.
(2) That the annual grant of $5,000 given by the city to the association be maintained.
(3) That during the coming year the city contribute dollar for dollar up to the sum of $5,000 with the association, the money to be expended in securing necessary buildings and extensions at the grounds.

President William H. Munroe, Secretary W. H. Mearns and Directors A. E. Humphries and George Stanger comprised the Agricultural Association deputation that met the City Council at the public works meeting, which was presided over by Alderman E. S. Woodward, the chairman. The deputation, in submitting its demands, advised the Council that it was absolutely necessary that greater accommodation be secured at the Willows if the exhibitions in the future were to be the success they should be. It was pointed out that no less than $1,200 had to be turned down by the association this year owing to insufficiency of concession space.

The City Council was informed that the sum of $24,000 went through the association's hands during the past year, and that a net profit of $7,000 had been realized. This was the best showing ever made at the annual exhibition here. While the exhibition associations in Vancouver and New Westminster did not have to pay taxes, or money for water, police and fire protection, the B.C. Agricultural body was obliged to pay $2,180 annually in taxes, $3,000 for necessary improvements in buildings and grounds, water charges, and money for police and fire protection, the delegation declared. The request of the association for a ten-year lease was discussed by the City Fathers, and a number felt that a ten-year period was too long a term, and that the lease should not be longer than five years. Consideration was also given the proposal that the city contribute money for the provision of greater accommodation and facilities at the Willows, but no definite recommendation was reached.

A FAMED JURIST

Victoria welcomes today, in the person of Lord Darling, a visitor who has not merely upheld the belief of the English-speaking world in the accepted doctrine of "the unsullied eminence of the English Bench," but has added to it a certain lustre which is the natural accompaniment of a charming personality. Lord Darling's position in the public mind is mainly associated with his career as a Nisi Prius, or trial judge. There, when the judge is dealing with counsel and witness as the human side of a case is being unfolded, a man gifted with deep powers of observation, analysis and judgment of human nature, has great scope. Today's distinguished visitor is wonderfully endowed with all three qualities. Added to them is a sense of humor, refined, dignified and real.

Lord Darling, in a long and brilliant career as a trial judge, has largely dispelled the popular conception of law, lawyers, law courts and judges as solemn, dry, dusty and generally uninteresting persons, places and things. Coupled with a profound knowledge of law and humanity, Lord Darling has always seen the centre line between right and wrong. His style of humor, which made his court an attractive place, is of a scintillating type, but he never made a joke or witticism in a case which cast ridicule or embarrassment on either witness or counsel. By some it was regretted when Lord Darling was elevated to the Appeal Side, much the same as when the great Sir George Jessel was elevated, but it has been shown that while his lordship's absence from Nisi Prius is felt as a loss, his great experience and sound knowledge acquired during an intensely busy career are assets of value to the higher tribunals in which he now sits. It is a good thing for Canada, and it may also be respectfully stated, it is a good thing for the men themselves, that such a broad-minded, learned and distinguished personage as Lord Darling visit this country so often.

BUSINESSMEN'S CONVENTION

The Canadian Boards of Trade will hold a convention in St. John, N.B., next month, and it is of the highest value, from any standpoint from which it may be viewed, that Victoria be represented. This convention discusses problems of national moment which come within the ken of businessmen. It is a businessmen's gathering, and as such discovers what are the problems that are common to the commercial and industrial life of the country, and discusses measures which may be taken towards their solution. It is a national movement that deserves cordial encouragement, and the possibility of really substantial results being secured from such deliberations can be gathered from the character of the last convention held in Winnipeg.

We would suggest strongly to the Chamber of Commerce, or the City Council, or both bodies combined, that they should see to it that Victoria is represented at St. John. This city should have a spokesman in the movement to promote commerce and industry and the fostering of the development of trade east and west, a purpose for which the great transcontinental railways of the country were constructed. It is a worthy object, national in its scope, and the time has arrived when Victoria can well afford to play a more prominent part in contributing its counsel to national development than it has been able to do in the past.

THE LUMBER ARBITRARY

A struggle of nearly twenty years' duration has been going on to secure the removal of the Arbitrary from lumber moving from Vancouver Island. A partial success has at times been attained, always through the medium of negotiation with the railways direct, and often through the initiative of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Only some eight months ago it was removed to points in the U.S.A. East of Minnesota Transfer. The experience before the Railway Commission on a previous occasion and the results from direct negotiation should have indicated the line to be taken in further continued effort. Mr. McGee, however, persuaded the lumbermen to allow him to handle their case and the way he did so was little short of tragic. His brief was to secure the removal of the Arbitrary and that only. He completely subordinated this issue and submerged it in his Mountain Scale Case. He had his witnesses on the stand for the whole of one afternoon and the best part of the next morning examining them on the rates to Calgary and Edmonton, and what not, interspersing his interrogations with questions on the Arbitrary. He tried to use them for his main case and in doing so confused the Commission between the Mountain Scale Case and the local Arbitrary. Some of the lumbermen were convinced of the drift of things and pointed out direct to the Commission that what they were there for was to deal with the Arbitrary and not have it beclouded with other issues not germane to their case. The argument on this Arbitrary should not have taken more than one hour. All Mr. McGee should have done was to call witnesses to testify that the Eastbound rates from Victoria were the same as from Vancouver on every item of merchandise, except lumber, and then ask why this one vital commodity is singled out to pay an excess rate. We believe that the driving of this one argument home, with just the one line of pertinent questions to each witness, would have been the quick and direct means of impressing the Commission and of demonstrating the justice of the demand.

Since the lumbermen decided they would take their case to the Commission, it is a great pity they did not handle it themselves. The concentration on the one point at issue, the singleness of purpose, and the fact that they were businessmen making a straight business appeal direct to the Board, would undoubtedly have carried a great deal of weight. We do not believe it is yet too late for them to take this course.

THE JERASH CHRIST

The marble head, supposed to be that of Christ, discovered in the cloisters of the ruined fifth century Christian basilica at Jerash, Transjordan, is claimed by some to be the earliest known representation of the bearded Christ. It has aroused considerable controversy, and beyond question is one of the most notable discoveries of its kind in recent times. Perhaps most light on the subject has been thrown by Professor G. Rachel Levy of the Palestine Museum at Jerusalem. He has studied it on the spot and his findings will elicit the attention of antiquaries, and indeed of Christians everywhere. The head he says is barely life-size and is cut from a marble fine enough to take an enchanting play of surface on the cheeks and brow and it is weathered to a rich gold. The comparatively rough and simple treatment of the hair suggests that this was once painted. Professor Levy says that the bent neck, the setting of the eyes, the very sensitive lips, point to a fourth century original of the Attic school, perhaps to one of the marble versions of the Asclepius which Thrasymedes of Patos set up in gold and ivory at Epidaurus.

Professor Levy sees in the discovery something in common with the Asclepius of Melos now in the British Museum. He thinks the Jerash head is a free fourth century rendering of the type established by Thrasymedes in the early part of the century. A later hand appears to have scratched in the pupils and irises from which the color had long since faded and also touched the upper eyelids and deeply incised the lines at their corners and above the brows. The touch of the later craftsman was clumsy but he left the essential qualities unchanged. In the head there is a depth of religious emotion. There is a circular depression of the hair probably designed to carry a metal wreath though there are no signs of rivets. The neck is broken rather high as if a garment or raised shoulder had protected his base. Professor Levy hopes that further excavation may reveal the figure of a throned divinity, "whose attributes of healing and compassionate pose offered to a pious Byzantine the model for his Christ."

THE HEALTH OF RUSSIA

Dr. Horsley Gantt, who was chief of the Medical Division of the American Relief Administration at Leningrad, has contributed an article on the health of Russia to The British Medical Journal. His summing up is that between 1917 and 1923, civil war, famine and disease, "completely smashed Russia." In 1924 the Russian death rate was 22.9 per 1,000, as compared with 12.2 in England and Wales. Malaria and tuberculosis constitute two of the grave problems. In 1923 the outbreak of malaria reached a total of 6,000,000 cases. That was the number registered, but Dr. Gantt thinks it probable that 18,000,000 cases occurred. In the Moscow district during the 38 years before the war the rate of malaria was 80.5 per 1,000, and in 1921 it rose to 258 per 1,000. Russia lacks doctors because this scientific breed was largely wiped out with the rest of the intelligentsia by the Soviet regime. That accounts for the spread of malaria. It also accounts for the fact that in 1924 47 per cent of the students of Kiev University were afflicted with tuberculosis. Russia's health has suffered irreparable damage, not through the war, but with peace and under the Bolshevik regime. It is another illustration of the futility of Red rule in making a nation healthy and happy and prosperous.

Lord Darling, who is now on a visit to Canada, told the members of the Montreal Bar that crime is steadily decreasing in the British Isles, and he attributes this fact to a strict enforcement of the law and the adherence of the British people to capital punishment. In the United States crime is on the increase because the law is not strictly enforced because its operations are susceptible to waves of hysteria and sympathy for criminals, and because the death penalty is at the exception and not the

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

In the distance he looked "like a glory from afar." When he came closer his face illumined the night like an aurora borealis. When he confronted us the light of his countenance withered us up like a consuming fire. "Now," he snorted, "what do you think of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King?" We replied that neither the result of the late election nor the result of any other election could change our opinion of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King; and we countered on him by asking what he thought of British Columbia's opinion of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King.

Our Liberal friends are rejoicing, and they have a right to rejoice, at the result of the election. The general result is highly satisfactory to them, and we do not know that the general result ought not to be gratifying to a majority of the people of Canada. Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, whatever our personal opinion of him may be, with a working majority supporting him in Parliament, is preferable to Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King without a majority behind him in Parliament and offering inducements detrimental to the interests of the country to the ragtag and bobtail of Parliament to keep him in power.

We therefore lift up our voice with the uplifted voices of our Liberal friends in their political hallelujahs. We join in the song of thanksgiving for two reasons. One reason is patriotic; the other reason is professional. The whole of Canada presumably is now going to have responsible government instead of irresponsible government. That is something no patriotic person can refrain from being thankful for. It would have been more satisfactory, of course, if the Government shortly to be formed had derived its strength from the country generally instead of from Quebec and the Prairie Provinces; but we shall not cavil at the restricted source of the prospective administration's strength. The main point to be considered is the re-establishment of responsible government in Canada.

From a journalistic point of view we have the very best of reasons for being satisfied with the result of the election. British Columbia has not contributed very generously or materially to the strength of the Government Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King is about to form. Only one "straight" Liberal has been elected in this Province, and he was, and doubtless will be, a Cabinet Minister. And we will say this for Hon. Dr. King: that he is deservedly popular personally and can boast of a good administrative record. We do not believe there is another "straight" Liberal who could have won a seat in British Columbia. The member-elect for Comox-Alberni, although he has consistently supported the Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King in Parliament, dared not appeal to the voters of his constituency as a "straight" Liberal. He hoisted the colors of an "independent," and fought his political battle under that flag; and it was his personal popularity, not the popularity of the chief of whom he appears to be ashamed, that gained him the victory.

Consequently, while the Liberals of British Columbia have reason to rejoice over the victory in Canada at large, the Conservatives of British Columbia have more abundant reasons for rejoicing over the results in this Province. The political sentiment in this Province is almost solely Conservative.

We observe that the Liberal newspapers in this city and in Vancouver are professing to be jubilant over the result of the election. Considering the results at the polls, we think the editors of the Liberal newspapers should be wearing sackcloth upon their backs and decorating their hair with ashes, and that the columns of their newspapers should be garbed in mourning for at least a month. One Liberal elected on the Mainland and one independent elected on the Island! We are assuming, of course, that newspapers still exercise a certain influence upon the minds of an intelligent electorate. If we are justified in that assumption, The Colonist has no reason to be ashamed of the political and ethical power it exercises upon Vancouver Island, and the Vancouver Province and The New Westminster Columbian should have reasons for satisfaction as they contemplate the results on the Mainland.

In the course of our daily routine of duty we have been keeping a watchful eye upon the political courses of all the prominent newspapers of Canada, and as a result of our observations we have reached the conclusion that there are but two Liberal journals of importance that have any reason to congratulate themselves upon the results of their labors. The Vancouver Star, in the midst of the campaign, probably disgusted with the manner in which the campaign was being conducted, declared its independence of all political parties. The Manitoba Free Press, which for many years had been a Liberal newspaper but in late years had been a newspaper without any fixed political principles, cast aside its false face and became a strong supporter of the King party. We have no doubt that the influence of the Free Press was a factor of importance in determining the result of the campaign in the Prairie Provinces.

A Successful Settler
Sir—As an illustration of what can be done in this country under present conditions by the right type of settler I offer the following example.

Just four years ago we sold four acres of heavily forested land to a prospective settler. The land is within twenty-three miles of the centre of Victoria. The man made a first payment which absorbed a good part of his capital. He was an upholsterer by trade with no previous experience in the woods. With his young wife, a tent and a few tools he started to work to carve his home out of the forest. He had to work out a part of the time to provide money for current expenses. I have watched his progress with great interest and a few Sundays ago, in company with two others, I visited our settler, and this is what we found.

The property fenced with split cedar pickets, about three acres clear, and in garden, producing green food for 700 chickens. Watermelons, tomatoes and canteloupes ripening in the open. Chicken houses for 700 birds, feed house, root house, barn for cow, as well as the family habitation. All the buildings and equipment made of round poles and split cedar and fir, not a square foot of sawn lumber used and great ingenuity shown in construction. Livestock consists of 700 of the finest-looking white Wyandotte pullets, six months out of the shell and laying, that I have ever seen, and a Holstein cow.

Our settler is also the father of three fair-haired, blue-eyed children, and the mother looks as young and fresh as the day they pitched their tent in the forest just four years ago. Our settler had no complaint about the country. He thinks and works and produces. He has paid for his property and every year he adds a thousand dollars or more to his purse.

Our settler is modest. He does not crave publicity, otherwise I would give his name. He is not of our stock but he has the blood of Vikings flowing in his veins.

Our inspection was most inspiring and we came away with a stronger conviction than ever that there is little wrong with the country. Successful settlement is a question of the right type of settler. The receipt for success being—good health, a bright intelligence and ability to do a will to work.

"Scintillae Juris"

By LEWIS WHARTON

This, the title of Lord Darling's best known work, may be roughly, perhaps brutally, translated, "Plashees of Law." If that work cannot be justly described as "a thing of beauty" (it is rather too cynical for that), yet it is certainly "a joy forever."

Unfortunately we can only quote but briefly from this mint of precious things, yet a few extracts will, or should, delight all. I say "should" advisedly "all" even though the learned author in his preface states that his juristic reflections are intended, like the famous soup-recipes of Horace, to assist the cook and are not intended for the enlightenment of those who are to partake of the broth.

To proceed to particulars (even our dictation must be properly legal in writing on such a subject) what man can resist a whoop of delight in reading the following: "It is characteristic of women that they think everything they can say to be very material and, therefore, they never understand why any questions should be put to them. It also passes their comprehension why they should be stopped just when they are about to inform the court of the most important matter of all, namely, what a man's wife thinks of him." Further, "Women are invariably angry in the witness box, for they are about to reveal the contents of evidence which happen to be particularly repulsive of feminine conversation; therefore they look upon them as prominent examples of the law designed for the subjugation of their sex."

Again, for the average "son of liell," there is infinite joy to be obtained from the medium of truth contained in the remark, "A religious witness takes credit for so many virtues that he allows himself much license in dealing with truth."

Treatment of Witnesses

Although we must take the exaggerated cynicism of much of the book with the proverbial grain of salt (Lord Darling is a notably kind and humane judge), I cannot resist quoting three extracts from his chapter on Advocacy: "Never torture a witness longer than he will wriggle in a lively fashion, for it is not the pain but the contortions of the victim which amuse lookers-on." And a little later, "If you can make a witness appear ridiculous, it is never unsafe to do so, for those in ludicrous situations receive no pity, even though they die there." Let parents, too, digest the following: "Of children, perhaps, perhaps are the more truthful witnesses."

What a world of truth, too, there is in the following advice, "In relating the misfortunes of clients, one must never forget that if he is to gain by his pathos he must not long be pathetic. Our own troubles interest us always, but we soon tire of the woe of others. It is also to be noticed that while we all pity the victim of a sudden calamity, we rarely sympathize with those whose ill-luck is perpetual."

A considerable part of "Scintillae Juris" is given up to most entertaining travesties of the forensic styles of various judges. So we are regaled with extracts from the "leading case" of Thimbleberg vs. Hooke, an action brought by the plaintiff for having been called a "villain." The judge, having first expressed a doubt whether the opprobrious epithet alleged to have been used should be "villain" or "villainess," undertakes himself as follows: "A villain, if I have not forgotten my Oxford learning, was one who did odd jobs—and so does the plaintiff. A villain carried food to the pigs—but the plaintiff is a lawyer and supplies sporting intelligence. The villain was dependent on a lord and was his man—the plaintiff hangs on to several noble peers, yet I hardly call him a man. It was he who was said at the bar that by this decision the plaintiff will lose his character. Well, then, he is only a son of a bitch in his own interest, that I sincerely hope he may; better were it to have no character than his present one."

A Dismissing Judgment

"Gravely vs. Currie" supplies the type of judgment which the judge delivering it fondly and optimistically hopes may be considered a "brilliant, dismissing judgment." Unfortunately, considerations of space prevent the quoting of any of it except the conclusion. "I think, then, that in this action, the plaintiff cannot recover, though in the hospital he has done so which is in no way reprehensible, against him, for surely as 'No-one ought to be troubled twice in the same cause,' so no one should recover twice for one injury. Oh, yes, I wish to add that none of my brothers agree with this judgment."

In a case which bears the illuminating title of "The Fraude vs. Shaftelbitt", it would appear that some irritation must have existed between two of the judges hearing this case, for one of them remarks, "With regard to a case which, during the argument of the question, was put by my learned brother, as to the effect of a warranty of this nature given to him on the purchase of a pair of carriage horses for a duchess, let me say, once for all, that I regret the introduction of hypothetical cases involving supposed facts so extremely improbable in their nature as to amount almost to complete impossibilities. It is obvious that should my learned brother be acquainted with a duchess, or even a Marchioness—which he by no means admits to be likely—and should she request him to choose for her a pair of horses, or indeed only one, it is obvious, I say, that no one can pretend to foresee the consequences of such a series of remarkable events."

Finally, we will give an illustration of the breezy kind of judgment (our best luminaries will doubtless remove who is being parodied). There had been, the plaintiff complained, breach of promise to marry. The learned judge sums up, "The defendant says the plaintiff won't marry; she says she would. Which of them do you believe? He has three hundred a year—and—and well, she's a woman, there! She doesn't dislike money, you know. This is an action to get what? Why, money, to be sure; and defendant a money, too, mark that. She can't bring an action for the man, and I can't order specific performance of the contract to marry, because the law says damages—that's money—are as good as a husband."

"First, then, there's the loss of the husband's income. Then the loss of the man and, when you've settled the damages on these, there's compensation for the injury to the plaintiff's heart—her feelings, you know."

"Now, here the learned counsel says there are no particulars. He must say something, of course, that's what he's for. I don't know what he expects. He can hardly want a list of regrets as so much a dozen; misery at five shillings per hour, it's a way, or on account of the number of tears, or plums of them that the plaintiff has shed over this business, the whole to be a reduction, perhaps on account of the defendant's taking a large quantity."

And so on, but it is a sorry task picking from such a supply of gems.

Splendid Display Is Made At the Cowichan Fair

Excellent Exhibits Are Shown at Annual Gathering of Cowichan's Best Stock and Produce—Many Entries Noted in Women's Work Department

DUNCAN, Sept. 17.—Under favorable weather the fifty-eighth annual exhibition held under the auspices of the Cowichan Agricultural Society opened today and promises to be a most attractive fair. The exhibits in many of the classes are of very high standard, keen competition being to the fore in many of the divisions. While tomorrow will be the real gala day, with the band of the 16th Canadian Scottish, in attendance, and the fair to be formally opened by the Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Robert Randolph Bruce, this may not deter many from attending today to see the fine displays. Once again the horticultural classes made a gorgeous showing as one enters the main hall. In the space allotted to the floral displays there were three entries, Mr. R. M. Palmer, of Cowichan Bay; Mr. A. A. B. Herd and Flewin Bros., of Victoria, each displaying a fine and gorgeous bloom of wonderful colorings and size, gladioli and dahlias forming the principal flowers in these showings.

The district exhibits, which were dropped last year and again introduced this year, have aroused much interest. There are four districts represented: Glenora, Sonoma, Cowichan and Bahlman, and competition is keen. Each of these displays being a miniature exhibition in itself.

High Standard

In the women's department there are exceptionally large entries, one class alone—that of colored embroidery—in itself having twenty entries, which it will be easily seen left no easy task for the judge in making her decisions, for not only were the entries large but the judge commented on the high standard of work shown. The tea cloths, both with the crochet lace and the embroidered ones, show a fine display, while in the class for pillowcases is seen an entry of ten, all excellent.

In the domestic science classes, while the entries were not as large as in some of the former years, still the competition was keen.

Indian Display

In the Indian room the display of manual training work by the boys of the Nanaimo Indian day school, under their instructor, Mr. J. C. Sommer, is most interesting. Here one sees what can be done by the native lads in one year's tuition, for manual training was only introduced into this school just a year ago. The display includes wheelbarrows, cupboards, tables and many smaller articles. It is a credit to the school, for the pupils of the Kuper Island Industrial School are also very fine and a credit to the school. In the open competition the class for Indian-made sweaters brought in an excellent display with keen competition.

GULF ISLANDS HAVE SPLENDID FAIR

FRUIT AND GARDEN PRODUCE IS OF THE HIGHEST QUALITY

Fine Display in Farmers' Section—
Two District Exhibits
Staged

SALT SPRING ISLAND, Sept. 17.—
The Thirtieth Annual Exhibition of the Islands Agricultural and Fruit-Growers' Association was held on Wednesday, at Ganges Harbor.

It was opened at two o'clock by Prof. E. M. Strain, of the Experimental Farm, Sidney, who, in his most interesting address, stated that he had never seen a finer exhibition of fruit anywhere, and was especially enthusiastic in his praise of the size and quality of the nut exhibits. He mentioned that although the entries were not so numerous as they might have been, many of them were worthy of a much larger show. Considering the heavy showers, which continued during the day, the attendance was remarkably good.

The arrangements of the exhibits in the Hall, helped by the decorations of red, white and blue, made the interior of the building most attractive, and although there were not so many entries as at the previous shows, the quality was exceedingly good, the fruit of a very high standard, as was also the garden produce.

Among the dairy produce, the three entries of eggs exhibited by Mr. J. J.
Shaw, of Fulford, are deserving of special mention; one dozen special, white, gaining 75 1/2 points out of 80;
one dozen extra, white, 74 out of 80,
and three dozen extra, white, 74 out of 80. These were most highly commented on by the judge, Mr. W. Hager, Dominion Egg Inspector.

In the ladies' section, a piece of fancywork done in silk, and representing a large bird, worked by a child, M. Murahan, deserves the highest praise; the work is of the most exquisite quality. Two very interesting district exhibits were entered by Pender Island and North Salt Spring, the former, which took first prize, was most attractively arranged by Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Scott, of Pender Island. The wonderful farmer's display of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Akerman, of Fulford, was almost a replica of last year's and once again was highly commented on and won the perpetual challenge cup, donated by the former. The latter, which took second prize, was almost a replica of last year's and once again was highly commented on and won the perpetual challenge cup, donated by the former.

The football match between Ganges and Fulford, which took place during the afternoon, resulted in a win for Ganges, 3 to 0.

The dance which took place in the evening proved a great success, the hall was crowded. Hunt's orchestra was in attendance.

The following is a copy of the prize list:

Fashions and Foibles

By Shirley Sharon

The red spots of pin-dot swiss are not the kind that cause the beard on your forehead to have a measles sign on your forehead. Even though in blue or rose, or in white on a green or yellow ground, they are somewhat contagious and often result in a whole flock of dotted dresses in the community, but they are never quarantined. This little frock gathered to a narrow yoke and worn with separate bloomers is also very engaging in the gay pattern or chaille prints. Chambray and cotton broadcloth are for kindergarten, and crepe de Chine is "dressed" for Sunday school and dancing class.

From Vancouver

Mrs. George Kidd, of Vancouver, is a visitor in the city for a few days.

Leaves for Vancouver

W.A. is having a good effect in the parish, under the direction of Rev. John Munson, and bringing the scattered settlers together was the opinion of Mrs. Schofield, as indicated by the excellent attendance at the services held by the bishop, and the splendid results from the sale of work which Mrs. Schofield opened at Tofino.

Miss Watt gave an interesting account of her visit to the Gulf Islands, Quatsino and other points on the island in order to further the work of the Sunday School by post, and to encourage Sunday School-ers to receive much support and encouragement from the Rector of Mayne Island and she was kindly received and treated with hospitality in many isolated places. As a result of her itinerary forty more scholars have been placed on the roll of the Sunday School by post.

Mrs. Hickocks' Memory

In loving memory of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Hickocks, past vice-president of Columbia W.A., and Dominion life member, the meeting was opened with special hymn and prayers, and the members stood in silence as a tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Hickocks, and to express their deep sympathy with the members of her family.

Mrs. Quinton, who was in the chair, spoke feelingly of the great loss the Columbia W.A. has sustained in Mrs. Hickocks' death, and informed the meeting that a wreath had been sent, and the funeral had been attended by over one hundred members. Special prayer was offered for the daughter of one of the diocesan officers who was to have an operation that morning, and a message of sympathy sent from the meeting.

Two visitors were welcomed, Mrs. Humphries, from Nova Scotia, and Mrs. Chestnut, from Montreal. The scripture portion was read by Mrs. Stapleton, who welcomed the members in the name of her branch. A special vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Madden for her kindness in making the banner which was ready for use at the laying of the foundation stone of the new Cathedral ceremony on September 3, and also was carried at Mrs. Hickocks' funeral services on September 11.

Mr. Smith's kind help was also acknowledged in the lettering of the banner. The noon hour address was given by Rev. A. L. Nixon in the pretty little church of St. Columba. At the afternoon session special intercessions were read by Miss Mary Pooley, including those for the Dominion annual meeting, which is to be held next week at London, Ont., which Mrs. Dickson, first vice-president, is attending as proxy for Mrs. Nelson, diocesan president.

Mrs. Luxton brought a message of love and remembrance from Miss Ard, who was one of Columbia W.A.'s most energetic workers on the diocesan board, and who recently paid a visit to the city, and was entertained by St. John's W.A.

Need for Magazines

The afternoon session was largely occupied with reports of diocesan officers, and letters of grateful thanks were read by the diocesan secretary, Mrs. Platt, from the hospitals to which gifts have been sent, and also from the Rev. John Antle, who expressed his delight at the beautiful gifts of tableware and the handsome desk for the St. Columba, which came at a time when they were greatly needed. Mr. Antle concluded his letter with the following words regarding the magazines which are sent to the Columbia Coast Mission: "Please put in a word for a larger percentage of higher class magazines. There are quite a lot of people who do not read the ordinary light literature, and would be glad of something more intellectual." Which request contributors are asked, kindly, to remember in sending magazines to Mrs. Redpath, who is, Columbia Coast Mission secretary.

Future Meetings

Announcement was made of the series of lectures to be given on three Mondays in October by the Rev. H. T. Archbold, in aid of St. Matthias, Foul Bay, at the Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall. Tickets for the course can be obtained from Mrs. Hartley, 1733 Dallas Avenue.

A change has been made in the arrangements for the October board meeting, which will be held (D.V.) at the Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall on the fourth Friday. In the report of the Dominion annual meeting to be brought in by Mrs. Dickson. Members were asked to note the date, October 22. The kind invitation of St. Saviour's W.A. was accepted for the November meeting on November 19. In the absence of Mrs. Laycock, the literature table was in charge of Mrs. Martin, who reported that the W.A. library is now open every Monday afternoon, having been revised during the holidays, and a call is issued to the parochial branch members to return the books borrowed before the holidays. Many new books have been added, and for the Christmas trade there will be a number of books suitable for presents, also 250 copies of the W.A. calendar.

SIDNEY Sept. 17.—The Girls' Auxiliary of St. Andrew's and Holy Trinity Church held its first meeting after the summer months, at the home of Miss Margaret Cochran, Roberts Point, on Thursday evening. There was a large attendance, and two new members were welcomed.

The president opened the meeting and heard the various reports from the treasurer and the E.C.D. secretary. The Dorcas secretary, after giving her report, was asked to examine a bale of clothing which was to be sent to the Mission School, and on opening the bundle, Miss Winnifred Fatt, a popular bride-elect, to her great surprise and pleasure found concealed therein a silver casserole, suitably inscribed. Miss Fatt, in a few words, thanked the girls for their gift. The meeting was then turned into a social evening and a game of charades was indulged in, which kept the onlookers and the actors themselves in peals of laughter.

Delicious refreshments were served by Miss Cochran and Mrs. S. Parker, and the evening came to a pleasant ending with music and singing. The next meeting will be held in Matthews Hall on Thursday, September 30.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, and

RICKARD TO RESERVE BROADCASTING RIGHTS

Contract With Agency Will Bar Newspapers From Using Radio To Send Out Reports

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—George L. Rickard, president of the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship bout in Philadelphia, September 23.

He told the Associated Press today that any contract he signed with a radio broadcasting station would bar newspapers from broadcasting wire reports of the bout. Asked about reports that a broadcasting station had paid $25,000 for the contract, Rickard denied that any deal had been made.

The Editor and Publisher, however, received a telegram bearing his name which said: "The broadcasting rights have been contracted for, and it will be an infringement on these rights for newspapers to use wire reports of the contest."

The publication has sent Rickard a telegram asking him about reports concerning the broadcasting contract. Rickard later said, when called by telephone in Philadelphia, that he had not sent any telegram to the publication. "This is a private show," said Rickard, "and I have a perfect right to say who can and who cannot broadcast."

Famous Battles for the Heavyweight Title

By the Associated Press

It was a sad day for Sheriff John J. Sullivan, who was knocked out by James J. Corbett, a youngster of twenty-six, at New Orleans, September 7, 1912, after twenty-one rounds of battling. They wore their gloves larger in those days than a spectator, describing the end, declared: "Sullivan fell like an ox, rolled over on his stomach and was counted out."

"I went in too often," was the champion's explanation of his defeat. "Five years ago I could have whipped any man in the world."

"I rained blows on him," was Corbett's summing up of the fight. "It was a sad day for Sheriff John J. Sullivan, who was knocked out by James J. They wore their gloves larger in those days than a spectator, describing the end, declared: "Sullivan fell like an ox, rolled over on his stomach and was counted out."

Over-confidence came in Sullivan's corner during the bout. The Boston "Strong Boy" admitted after he had been dethroned that he had held the title for too long and had not applied himself to his training as he should.

William Muldoon, now a New York boxing commissioner, once trained John L. stopped a theatrical engagement long enough to say that he was not surprised when apprised of the champion's downfall.

First Golf Club In West Preserved

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 17.—The first golf club used on the first golf course built west of the Mississippi River, is to be preserved in a place of honor at the Wichita Country Club. Professor J. P. Clark, now of Kansas, N.H., who was responsible for the first course to be established here, has given the country club this stick.

Professor Clark, who came from Massachusetts in 1857, says he never will forget the sensation created the first time he appeared on the streets of Wichita, attired in knickerbockers and a cap.

Fort Vancouver as It Was in Days of Use by Hudson's Bay Co. for Pacific Headquarters

The flag which flew over Fort Vancouver when it was a post of the Hudson's Bay Company will be formally presented to the city of Vancouver, Washington, next Thursday afternoon with a ceremony at Esther Short Park, by Mr. Glenn N. Ranck, president of the Vancouver Historical Society. When the headquarters of the company were moved to Victoria in 1849 the flag was taken to that city, but six years ago it was presented to Mr. Ranck by the then Governor of the company at the time of the celebration here in May, 1926, and was prominently displayed during the centennial exposition last year. The presentation of the old flag to the city will be a feature of the first day of the harvest festival of Clark County.

United Commercial Travelers Nine Win Ribbet Proddie Dog Cafe Trophies

Of the thousands of happy people at the Crystal Garden last night, perhaps the happiest were the United Commercial Travelers' baseball nine. Last night at the Frolic, the Worshipful Mayor presented the nine with the Ribbet Challenge Cup and the Proddie Dog Cafe Cup to Cy Paxton, business manager of the United Commercial Travelers' nine. In a very few words the Mayor congratulated the champions' manager on the showing of his team and their sportsmanship.

Other presentations in the form of medals were made to the following players: Jack Noble, of the Travelers' staff, received the B. G. Bailey medal for the largest number of home runs and the J. Wenger medal for the leading batter. Bill Holman, centre fielder of the Sons of Canada nine, received the Price & Smith medal for the best fielding average. Roy Conan, who won the C. C. ## Prohibitionists Would Nominate Candidates

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17.—At an anti-beer meeting under the auspices of the British Columbia Prohibition Association, the speakers declared that the fight against beer parlors was one to a finish. Neither beer parlors nor Government control had stopped bootlegging, Rev. G. Brown, principal of Ryerson College, asserted. Rev. R. J. McIntyre, in urging the need of organization, declared that the prohibitionists were preparing to bring forward candidates for both the civic and Provincial elections, without reference to political parties and the electors would be urged to vote for these irrespective of their own party affiliations.

London Times Comments Upon Election Result

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The Times, in an editorial on the Canadian general election, says the striking victory of the Liberal party has put an end to a long period of political instability and the Dominion may now, in the ordinary course of events, look forward to a time of Liberal development. The Times expresses the opinion that undoubtedly Mr. Meighen's efforts to win Quebec lost him support in the annual election, but that he will cause a change in the leadership of the Conservative party.

Of motor tractors Hungary now has more than a thousand.

American Tourists Oust Art Students

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 18.—Art students, who each summer flock here to see the Rembrandts at the Rijks Museum, are complaining that this year they cannot see the Rembrandts for the American tourists. The overseas parties of more than twenty descending upon the museum under the chaperonage of a professional tour conductor have broken all records for size and frequency.

Inspired by a Snake

Artists draw their inspiration from many unusual sources. George Bissell, the Nottinghamshire miner-artist, has established his fame, even his pet snake. Five years ago Mr. Bissell went to London with five shillings in his pocket. He had been forced to give up mining because of the effects of gas-poisoning during the war. A few square feet of London pavement and a box of chalks were his first stock-in-trade. The master snake, which is harmless, was given him by a friend.

MALASPINA PLANS FOR SHIPMENTS

Good Ore in Sight Should Assure Early Movement of Ore From Mine

The latest report from the property states that ore in sufficient quantity to enable regular shipments has now been established in the workings, and on the completion of the necessary contracts with a smelter, it is the intention of the company to commence shipping as much as can be handled with the equipment and labor that is now available.

While there is no doubt that by increasing the plant and the number of men employed, a corresponding increase in the tonnage would follow, it is not the intention of the company to do this, as the policy at the present time is to ship only such ore as will meet in the actual development work of the mine.

During the last two months a tunnel has been driven across the ore bodies, three of which have been encountered, carrying good commercial rock, but not considered good enough to ship in the crude state. This tunnel has now reached its objective, and following a visit from Prof. J. H. Macdonald, the geological survey, the company has commenced a shaft in the ore on the surface, which runs about forty per cent zinc.

In two or three days of work, and with a depth of about under ten feet, about twenty-five tons of good shipping ore have been taken out from this one shaft, while some fifteen feet away, on what looks like the continuation of the same body, four holes put down five feet, have shown up what the men on the ground deem "the best surface cropping that they have ever seen," all massive zinc.

Further work, in the shape of a shaft, is being continued on the other side of the property, known as the John Bull claims, which this spring produced ore averaging over sixty per cent zinc; a report on which will be announced later.

Any further information on this property may be obtained from the local agents, Messrs. Mason & Dias, who are in receipt of weekly reports from the engineer in charge.

Winnipeg Grain Letter

(Supplied by R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17.—Wheat: Weather map showed only light scattered showers with large important areas dry with favorable forecast. There was a decided change, and with long taking profits and falling little support, prices broke sharply finally closing at the bottom and 3 7/8 to 1 1/2 below last night's close. Trade was not so large today as yesterday and outside of the selling by locals and the profit-taking by sellers, yesterday at higher levels, the buying was largely confined to new, exporters stating they had recently no business overnight and evidently no business buying came in this morning even on the break. The market was very heavy all day and although offerings dried up on the break there was little support for the time being. The demand for cash wheat showed a falling off, only a moderate amount of business being cleared. Shippers were buyers of 2 1/2 to 3 Nor. in small volume, while millers took a few odd lots offered. Spreads on the contract grades lost 1 to 1 1/2. No 1 Nor. lost 1 cent of its premium. Threatening will be general again next week, with favorable weather, and a much better foreign demand will have to appear to hold prices.

Foreign Grains: These markets were flat today, and outside of a little selling by locals there was not much doing. Oats and barley closed about 1-2 cent lower, while rye declined 3 1/2 to 4 1/2. Markets were affected by the weakness in wheat.

Flax: Flax and specially lower in sympathy with the general market. Final figures over three cents lower.
